With the Pittsburgh Steelers riding a five game winning streak Black Jon Bostic Jersey , they did their part to make this rematch worthy of national attention, but the Jacksonville Jaguars have done little to deserve the spotlight this season. With Jacksonville looking more like the team that missed postseason play for nine straight years before 2017 than the one that made it to the AFC Championship Game last season, the Steelers should be well position to give them their sixth straight loss of the year in Week 11. Players like Jalen Ramsey have had plenty to say about Pittsburgh since putting them out of the playoffs and many fans will be hoping the Steelers can quieten a Jacksonville team that got a little bit carried away with itself after their first good season in a decade. However, it would be a mistake to look at the Jaguars' poor record and dismiss them as a guaranteed win on Sunday. Their defense still ranks third overall in the NFL this year, giving up an average of 319.1-yards a game and they are the No.1 team against the pass, allowing an average of just 200.6-yards through nine games. With the recent return of a running back who dominated Pittsburgh in their previous two meetings, after missing most of the season with a hamstring injury <http://www.authenticpittsburghsteelers.com/cheap-jesse-jame-s-jersey> , facing Leonard Fournette once again will be no easy task. Injuries: The Steelers look likely to be forced to play without Marcus Gilbert for the fourth consecutive week due to a knee injury, while Stephon Tuitt is in danger of missing his first game of the year on Sunday because of an elbow issue. Upcoming schedule: While the Pittsburgh Steelers returned from the bye-week in convincing fashion Youth Cameron Heyward Jersey , the same cannot for said about the BTSC staff picks. As bad as Jeff Hartman's selection after going 8-5 against the spread and 6-7 versus the totals, my picks were even worse at 7-6 ATS and 5-8 versus the totals. If we were depended upon our winning bets to live, we would clearly both starve. Having seen five games split by a spread of more than 8-points last Sunday, only three games feature a line higher than 6.5-points in Week 9. A number of expected close contests has six games showing a spread of three points or less and there are several road teams that look good value to win their matchups this weekend. Pittsburgh maintained their position at the top of the AFC North with a convincing win over the Cleveland Browns and gained some daylight over the Baltimore Ravens after they lost to the Carolina Panthers. If the Steelers cannot take care of business against the Ravens (-3) at M&T Bank Stadium in their rematch, the Cincinnati Bengals on a bye-week would take the lead in the division once again and Baltimore would pull within half a game of Pittsburgh.
