Hi,

I have an accumulation of dead skin that builds up, I've removed it and it just comes back. It's all over my forehead, my nose, between my eyebrows and my cheek, and it seems to just continue to spread no matter what I do. I've tried fish oil capsules, vitamin, moisturizers, I drink tons of water, nothing helps and it just keeps progressing. Has anyone had this happen to them? Does anyone know what it could be and how I can treat it and prevent it from coming back? Please help. This has been ongoing for months and I'm going absolutely crazy.

Please help.

I didn't find the right solution from the Internet.
